CARBOLINE!

The Golden House of Nero.
On that day of the ruins of Imperial Rome lying between the Palatine and the Esquiline Hills—a space which was more than a mile in breadth—Nero erected his celebrated "golden house," as he called it, the new palace in which he fixed his abode. The vastness of extent and the varied magnificence of this imperial residence, and its ornamental grounds, almost surpass belief, and in this respect they are like CARBOLINE, a deodorized extract of petroleum. The vastness of the extent and the beautiful and varied magnificence of the golden tresses produced by its use, almost surpass belief, were they not well authenticated by thousands of certificates now in possession of the manufacturers. The beauties and magnificence of Nero's house are, however, not to be compared with the beauties of a luxuriant and elegant head of hair; it is the crowning glory of women; and all attempts to preserve this natural covering to the head is praiseworthy; and in this connection we desire to say that Carboline is the only article that will preserve, beautify and restore the hair. It is made from the crude petroleum, thoroughly deodorized and free from acids or alkalis, and is delightfully perfumed. It is an article of genuine merit, and will restore the hair on bald heads. It performs all that is claimed for it. Sold by all druggists and dealers in medicines.

A Welcome Thunder Storm.

National Associated Press to the Star.
QUEBEC, May 30.—At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon the pine deals on the wharf of the St. Lawrence Dock and Wharfage Company, at the Grand Trunk Depot Levees, were discovered to be on fire. The weather then was dry, with a high wind raging at the time, and in consequence the fire spread with great rapidity from one pile to another. A thunder storm, accompanied by rain set in, and had the effect of extinguishing the flames. Loss, $25,000.

THE GOLDEN ORIENT.

The Peace Prospects Still Prevailing.

GORTSCHAKOFF IS INTERESTED.

National Associated Press to the Star.

LONDON, May 30.—A special from St. Petersburg says: Prince Gortschakoff is still in a delicate state of health and occasionally suffers much. Notwithstanding his sufferings, however, he had himself carried into his study yesterday. He still takes a keen interest in public affairs, and watches the progress of the negotiations almost as closely as when in good health.

THE EMPEROR HOPES.

The Emperor has evidently made up his mind that there is good ground for the hope of a peaceful solution as a result of the negotiations now pending. He has given orders to prepare a grand theatrical representation, to take place on the proclamation of peace, and in honor of that event.

PUTTING HIS HOUSE IN ORDER.

LONDON, May 30.—A dispatch from Berlin says the workmen have commenced preparing Prince Bismarck's official residence as the meeting place for the Congress.

There is no truth in the unfavorable rumors of a suspension of negotiations for the meeting of the Congress.

SHOWING THEIR STRENGTH.

The great naval review at Portsmouth, which will shortly be held, will have a certain political significance. It will be a demonstration of the most imposing strength of England on the seas, and all the Nations will be challenged to regard with this manifestation of offensive and defensive power.

THE DATE NOT FIXED.

LONDON, May 30.—It is stated on the very best authority that Russia and England have accepted invitations to the Congress to be held in Berlin. Previous dispatches fixing it at June 11th are premature, as the preliminaries are still under discussion.

RUMORS DENIED.

LONDON, May 30.—It was reported yesterday that the negotiations for the Congress had been temporarily suspended, and that Count Schouvaloff awaited final instructions from St. Petersburg, but these unfavorable rumors were afterwards officially denied.

LONDON, May 29.—The peace feeling is not quite so buoyant to-day as it was yesterday. The uneasiness is caused by an apparent change in the attitude of Austria. While England agrees to the Congress Austria is making demonstrations unfavorable to Russia.

The Pall Mall Gazette's Berlin correspondent states that the formal invitations to attend the Congress will be issued as soon as all the Powers have also received informal communications in regard to the date and other particulars of the meeting.

A dispatch to the Pall Mall Gazette from Berlin says Prince Bismarck has been advised by his physicians not to take part in the Congress, as a personal attendance might prove too exciting and laborious for him in the present condition of his health.

It is probable that he will attend the close of the deliberations, and give his formal sanction to the proceedings.

Advices from St. Petersburg and Moscow indicate the popular feeling in Russia not at all inclined to regard the meeting of Congress as anything but the postponement of the inevitable conflict.

This feeling is so strong and the anxiety among Young Russia for the war is so fervid that the Directors of the Russian Imperial Bank, notwithstanding the embarrassed condition, have loaned the Moscow Cruiser Company the sum of $1,500,000, without interest, for the purpose of equipment of fast vessels in America to be used against English commerce.

In St. Petersburg and Moscow, among the "Young Russians," it is believed the Congress is only for the purpose of giving time for England to increase her strength on land, and that it should be Russia's role to profit by delay in increasing her offensive strength at sea.

Other Foreign News.

NEW SWEDISH LOAN.
LONDON, May 30.—A dispatch from Stockholm says that a new Swedish loan will be asked for shortly.

THE MILL OPERATIVES.

There is great distress reported among the cotton operatives at Burnley. The mill of Simpson & West has reopened with a full complement of hands at five per cent. reduction.

The weather to-day is cold.

LONDON, May 30.—Prices of securities on the Stock Exchange continue to rise.

A dispatch from Berlin says Emperor William has appointed Prince Bismarck and Herr von Bulow to represent Germany at the Conference.

LONDON, May 30.—The following statement is obtained from a high source: The temporary check in negotiations is due to two causes. Austria, emboldened by England's success in obtaining concessions from Russia, has put forward in more desirous terms the demands which she has hitherto offered as suggestions.

Lord Salisbury, on his part, has insisted that certain guarantees for the integrity of Turkey in Asia should be given.

The real object of the move is to obtain the virtual cession of Egypt to England. This is what has practically been the bone of contention during the last fortnight. The meeting of the Congress is assured, but both Salisbury and Schouvaloff are anxious that before it meets all should be arranged so that there shall be no wrangling around the green table.

The Cardinal's Reception.
The reception in honor of His Eminence Cardinal McCloskey took place yesterday at St. Patrick's Cathedral, and was very largely attended, the Church being utterly inadequate to accommodate the thousands who had assembled. The reception was one of unusual splendor.

Nearly all the other clergymen of this city and vicinity, a number of Bishops and many prominent laymen were present. An arch was built outside the main entrance, covered with evergreens and adorned with flags. The altar was resplendent with lights and flowers. The entire affair being probably the most imposing of the kind, either civil or ecclesiastical, that has ever taken place in this city.

Bishop McCloskey
Arrived in this city from Detroit and is at the house of Dr. Mason, on Forty-fourth street. Mrs. McCloskey is with him. The Bishop declined to see any one last evening. Dr. Mason said he knew of no recent communication that might have passed between the Bishop and his diocese. The Bishop had resigned and awaited with perfect equanimity any examination that might be made. The present visit puts no new phase on matters.

The Bishops' Diocesan Convention will be held next month, when it is expected that some statement will be made to the Church.

What the Captain Thinks.
Of nine Russian officers from the Crimea, who arrived Tuesday, five left yesterday morning for Philadelphia.

Commander Lowen expects to be put in command either of the Columbus or the State of California, now undergoing alterations at Philadelphia, and will cruise for some time in the Atlantic. When asked if Captain Somerskin, the Russian Agent, intended to buy any more ships, he said: "Certainly; he will have to buy as many as it will take the officers and sailors on board the Crimea to man, and when that is done he will probably get another Crimea, and another, and perhaps another, and he will buy more ships on which to employ them. This scheme is a grand one, planned by 'somebody' who is in this country last year to attend the Centennial. He made a careful survey of the field, and now there is an admirable chance for increasing the Russian navy by the addition of a large and well-equipped fleet of privateers to be used in destroying British commerce in case of war. His plans were laid before the Russian Government and were approved, and the visit of the Crimea is the result. The six hundred men are not raw recruits; they are experienced sailors."

"It took a little like peace now, but you can not tell."

"The last official news I received was of strong warlike tenor."

"From what you know of the temper of your countrymen, do you think they are anxious to have a war with England?"

"I don't think they are, and I don't believe they will be dragged into war soon again unless they are forced in order to maintain their national honor and dignity."

NEW YORK, May 30.—Among the departures for Europe to-day were Miss Mary Anderson, the actress; W. D. Phelps, the sculptor, and Capt. McKenzie, the chess player.

WASHINGTON CITY.

The Investigating Committee.
National Associated Press to the Star.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—The Potter Investigating Committee held a protracted session yesterday, regarding which members of the Committee are exceedingly reticent, being under pledge of secrecy not to reveal any of their proceedings. It is known, however, that the question of sending sub-committees to Louisiana and Florida, and whether to have secret or public sessions, were discussed.

On none of these topics was a definite conclusion reached, but there seems to be a very decided intention to exclude the press from meetings of the Committee, this being especially contended for by the Chairman and General Butler. The other Republicans on the Committee are in favor of publicity, but will probably leave the decision in the matter entirely in the hands of the Democrats. The Committee will meet again to-morrow.

The Adjournment Question.
The action of the House in amending the resolution for adjournment, so as to fix June 17th as the date, leaves the House at the mercy of the Senate. A general impression prevails that the latter body will not consent to an adjournment until the Potter Committee shall have reported.

Relieved from Duty.
Thomas Walsh, of St. Louis, has been relieved from duty as Superintendent of Construction of the Custom House at that place.

Should Provoke Derision.
The New York Herald (editorially) sees no reason for the shrill notes of alarm sounded in the letters of Postmaster General Key and Hon. A. H. Stephens in reply to Mr. Potter, and expects the investigation will end in a fiasco. It regards the Potter movement as more fitted to provoke derision than denunciation.

Gov. Robinson on the Resolutions.
NEW YORK, May 30.—Governor Robinson, of this State, during an interview expressed the belief that the Potter resolutions would be productive of good. He had no fear of any revolution. If fraud had been committed it should be exposed. He was asked: "Suppose, Governor, that the frauds are found to be so formidable as clearly to vitiate Hayes' title, what would be the result?"

"I think," replied the Governor, "Mr. Hayes would leave the Presidency voluntarily. I don't believe he would insist on occupying the position if it were clearly demonstrated to him and the country that his majority was obtained by fraud. I have more belief in his common sense, and in fact he would see it would be impossible for him to live there." He had not considered the subject thoroughly enough to venture on a prediction in reference to the next President. It was premature to consider this matter until the result of the investigation could be known.

PLYMOUTH PRATTLE.

The Church Committee and the Charges.
National Associated Press to the Star.

NEW YORK, May 30.—A meeting of the Plymouth Church Examining Committee was held last evening at the residence of Chairman White. Of the six members composing the committee five were present. The Secretary who had at the last meeting been requested to visit Mrs. Barbara Walton for the purpose of calling her attention to an informality in the charge preferred by her against Mrs. Tilton and Mrs. Morse, presented formulated charges from Mrs. Walton against Mrs. Tilton.

These accused Mrs. Tilton, first, of falsehood in the matter of calumniating Beecher in a card recently given by her for publication in the newspapers; second, of violating her covenant with the Church in causing the card to be published instead of first submitting it to the Church. The Committee voted to entertain the charges, and also to have Mrs. Tilton served with a copy.

A later measure signified that under the rules of Plymouth Church Mrs. Tilton is offered the opportunity of appearing before the Committee to explain or endeavor to establish the latest charges made by her against Beecher, should she decide to do so, that course. In the event of her not doing so, the Committee, it is understood, will take no further action in the premises.

MURDER AT WOOSTER.

A Man Killed on His Way to An Execution.
National Associated Press to the Star.

WOOSTER, O., May 30.—A man named Samuel Daniels was murdered at Hon. John McSweeney's farm, near this place, about 9 o'clock Tuesday night. Daniels, with his two brothers, Joseph and Paul, live near Nashville, Holmes County, and they were on their way to Mansfield to witness the execution of Webb Cunningham. Peter Napp, a miller of Cedar Valley, Wayne County, had been arrested for the murder. Napp states that he met the three brothers on the road, he being in a buggy and they in a wagon, that they assaulted him because he requested them to give the road, and that in self-defense he drew his pocket-knife. With this instrument he effected the injuries from which Samuel Daniels died in a very few minutes. The scene of murder indicates that a severe struggle had taken place on the grass. The murdered man's remains were buried here to-day, and the two brothers are under arrest.

At that time some one pulled the bell-cord and the robbers becoming frightened jumped off. They fired three shots without injuring any one. DECORATION DAY

Worthy Remembrance of Our Fallen Heroes.

The Procession—Exercises at the Cemeteries, etc., etc.

Decoration Day dawned on us this morning, and it seemed at first as if the preparations for honoring our dead soldiers at Spring Grove Cemetery and at St. Joseph and St. Peter's Catholic Cemetery would be interfered with by rain. Black clouds overhung the sky and the atmosphere was close, but when the hour for the procession's departure arrived, the weather cleared up and there was every indication that Decoration Day would be a success.

Our citizens, as a general thing, closed up their places of business, and with their families departed at an early hour for Spring Grove, there to pay their tributes to the remains of our gallant soldiers, who fought and died for their country, and also to pay their respects to the deceased members of their families.

The public schools were closed, and the scholars used their holiday for attending the exercises at the cemetery.

The Post-office, Custom-house, and Assistant Treasurer's office were closed at 10 o'clock, as also the County Treasurer's office. But little legal business was done in the Court-house.

The Police Court was not in session, and orders given for the release of the prisoners that had been pulled in for minor offenses.

The day was on the whole observed as a holiday. Long before 8 o'clock this morning thousands and thousands of citizens were on the streets. Some hurried to the depot to catch the early train for Spring Grove, while others gathered in knots along the line of procession to see the display made by our military companies and civic societies.

The various societies assembled at the starting point, Eighth and Central avenue, in advance of the time set for the formation of the procession. There was also a slight display of hunting along the line of march.

Promptly at 9 o'clock, while thousands of spectators crowded the thoroughfares, the procession moved, with Grand Marshal Col. Ozro J. Dodds in the van.

He was followed by his assistants: Geo. B. Wright, Col. H. G. Kennett, Gen. Hal C. Young, Capt. Foster, Gen. Charles W. Karr, Capt. J. B. Foraker, Col. H. E. Collins, Maj. J. B. Morgan, Ensign Frank H. Johnson, U. S. N.; Theo. H. James, Capt. C. W. Gerald, John McClellan, Capt. John Sullivan, Thomas H. Corcoran, Samuel M. Chester, Maj. Geo. B. Wright, Capt. L. B. Wright, John P. Murphy, Jas. Maloney, Geo. W. Williams, Robt. Bell, August Grief, John A. Ziegler.

Then came two detachments of police, eighty strong in full dress uniform, under the command of Lieutenant Wilson.

They were followed by the First Regiment Band, who made a fine display.

Then came the military, First Regiment, O. N. G., under command of Colonel Hunt and staff.

There were three companies, namely, Companies A, B and H.

Next came another band, followed by the veteran soldiers, the German Landwehr Verein. They made a handsome appearance with the black cross on their arms.

The Colored Band was in the rear of these, followed by the Colored Veterans, under command of Col. Williams. They were about fifty strong, and took great pride in their tattered flags, which showed that the men had seen service.

The Cincinnati Drum Corps was next in the line of procession, followed by the Soldiers' and Sailors' Memorial Association, who turned out in large numbers.

At this point the string of carriages fell into the line of march. First came the back containing the orator of the day, Isaac M. Jordan, Esq., Mayor Moore and Col. A. E. Jones. Then that with Captain P. G. Wemy, Col. Armstrong and two other gentlemen; third, Messrs. Springmeier, Sheriff Wm. P. Wallace and his deputies, Brewster and Moses. The fourth back contained Col. Guthrie and Captain Harper.

The Fire Department came next, led by Fire Marshal Captain Joe Bunker.

The Commissioners followed in a hack, namely, Messrs. Weber, Dunn, Thompson and Sargent.

Then the Hook and Ladder wagon No. 2, and three hose reels and three engines, Nos. 4, 8 and 9. The display of the department was excellent.

The procession marched through the following streets: West on Eighth to Central avenue, north on Central avenue to Liberty street, east to Vine, south on Vine to Court, east to Walnut, south to Fourth, west on Fourth to Plum, where the military and societies taking part in the ceremonies and the grounds proceeded to the Marietta Depot, where cars were in waiting to transport them to Spring Grove Cemetery.

SPRING GROVE
was reached at 10 o'clock by the procession.

The grounds had been thrown open for the admission of the general public at 7 o'clock in the morning and a detail of twelve patrolmen and a lieutenant placed there to keep order.

Trains left the Marietta & Cincinnati Railroad Depot almost every fifteen minutes, so great was the rush of visitors to our beautiful "city of the dead."

An hour was spent by the vast throng in visiting the graves of their friends, and also in admiring the magnificent monuments in the cemetery.

At 11 o'clock precisely the programme for the day was opened at the soldiers' mound.
